

A Magazine By InfoOfBooks.in

Value

"For those who read in style"

OUR TEACHERS

GURU DRONA

DR. KALAM

August 2020

Happy
Teachers
Day

A letter from Guru Drona

Hello,

I asked Ekalavya, his thumb as Guru Dakshina. Since he belonged to a forest tribe (Kshatriya but belonged to a lower Hindu caste), everyone concluded that I showed my casteist ideology.

Let me narrate this tale from my point of view. When I was studying in Gurukul, Drupada, the son of the King, was my best friend. My father, Bharadwaja, was a poor brahmin by birth. I was more able and skilled than Drupada. So, he took my help during his entire tenure in the Gurukul. Gratitude struck in the head of Drupada, so he promised me that he would help me during the time of crisis.

As time changed, Drupada became the King of Panchala and drowned in the ocean of ego and pride along with massive wealth. In contrast, I faced poverty. My son was insulted by other students in the Gurukul as I could not even afford milk. I tricked my son Ashwatthama that the beverage made with rice powder was milk. This incident made me feel sad and hapless. As a father, I wanted to give him a comfortable life, but I could not afford it.

One day, like a helpless creature, I went to King Dhruvada and asked him to give half of the kingdom to me. I reminded him of the promise he made. He turned a blind eye and humiliated me in front of everyone in the court, saying that he does not remember me as a friend. I cried the tears of blood. The taste of betrayal stuck on my lips for a long time. I never forgot the embarrassment I went through.

One day in the Gurukul, I promised Arjuna to make him the best archer in the world and gave him unique knowledge and skills. A dog was barking in the jungle. A tribal shot 6 arrows which hit the mouth of the dog without injuring it and made it silent. Arjuna became insecure and reminded me of the promise. As I came to know the treachery of Ekalavya, I asked him to give his right thumb as Guru Dakshina. Ekalavya was a Kshatriya. I know the pain emerged by broken promises and the evil it brings. Guru Dakshina is my primary source of income. Being a Guru, if I could not stay on my words, what is the lesson that my disciples will learn?

With genuine regards,

Dhronacharya

Written by Sanjay Lunia

Here's the love of few little kids for their teachers

Teachers play an important role in our life to become successful in career and business. A good teacher helps us to become a good citizen. My favorite teacher is my science teacher because she does science experiments with us. She clears all our doubts. She understands us. She is caring. She is lovely.

Thank You

Yashashvi Rajawat

A teacher is a person who is key to success for every individual. Teacher is a polymorphic person who plays various roles in our life. Only the teacher has the ability to make students life as bright as possible. A teacher pushes up whenever a student is down and guides them in a nice way. The success of a student will be impossible without a teacher's guidance. I wish a happy teacher's day to all the teachers.

Guransh Singh

In our life, teachers play a vital role. A good teacher is like a lighthouse- they guide us. We should all thank our teachers for constant motivation.

My favorite teacher is Purvi Ma'am, whom I admire the most. She is very humble, joyful and a very fabulous teacher. She teaches us Maths nicely. She is a perfect role model.

Teachers play important role in early life of students. They are sometimes our friends and sometimes our friends in our school. We all should be thankful to our teachers.

Tanay Trivedi

The importance of our teachers

Teacher, the one who teaches us. It can be anything and anyone teaching, from studies to sports. We can see teachers everywhere in every field, but have we ever wondered what are they necessary for? They are there to help you out and teach you things you aren't familiar with. Now we ourselves have some major issues with some teachers which if we overlook are not really major. It's just the understanding which needs to be worked upon and which can be from anyone's side. Teachers just don't teach you a subject but also teach you some vital things for your life in the future, say discipline which regardless is important in any condition, and with that comes patience which is important for everyone to get through life, acting smart is very important nowadays, yes no doubt some people have to work like Trojans on that but believe me acting smart is one of the most salient things we learn.

Now if we always keep on thinking about the mistakes we've made in the past we will never be able to move ahead. Similarly, if we keep on thinking about our bad experiences with some of our teachers we will never be able to show them what good we are capable of and I am not talking about anyone's heritage here rather I am telling you to be the best version of yourself and do your best in everything be it sports, studies even if you play video games or practice your hobbies always try to do your best and be punctual and believe me your teacher's going to be impressed.

If you see a teacher scolding you again and again it's not because they have fun while they are doing so rather they want you to improve and be the best of yourself and if you don't perform well in something and you see a teacher telling you to do better then, you shall know that you are way better than you are right now and you need to work on your weak points, because a chain is as strong as its weakest links. So be grateful towards your teacher listen to them as what they say is really important and will surely help you improve and be the best of yourself and respect them as for having self-respect you need to give respect.

Written by Gurjas Singh

Book review of Abdul Kalam's Autobiography

Name of the book: Wings of fire

Author: Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam

Publisher: Universities press

About the book:

This book is the autobiography of Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, the former president of India, popularly known as 'The missile man of India.' In this book he shares his journey from being a boy living in slums of Rameshwaram to receiving Padma Vibhushan after successfully completing the project of Agni Missile for India.

About Dr. Kalam:

Avul Parikar Jinalabdeen Abdul Kalam was born in the pilgrimage center of Rameshwaram in Tamil Nadu. He was the youngest of the four brothers and one sister in his family.

He passed his B.Sc. from St. Joseph's collage Trichirapalli and then he joined Madras Institute of technology for a Diploma in Aerospace Engineering.

Dr. Kalam worked in Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) and Defence research and development organisation (DRDO) on various projects. For his dedication and contribution for research and development, he was awarded Padma Bhushan, Padma Vibhushan, Bharat Ratna and many more awards. He could not complete his PhD due to his financial conditions but Universities like Beijing University; Edinberg University, UK; University of Waterloo, France; Simon Fraser University and California Institute of technology awarded him doctorate degree.

Dr. Kalam expired on 27 July 2015 at Shelong during a lecture about Creating a livable planet Earth.

Personal Comments:

This book tells us what true struggle is and inspires us to chase our dream without caring about our own conditions.

Dr. Kalam ended this book with a very emotional note which will inspire you when you read it.

Written by Ayushi Singh

The passive hope

Today was good
Tomorrow will be better.
Life may be tough.
Things will get rough.
Through good times and bad,
Through happy moments and sad.
Believe on yourself and your dream.
Though impossible it may seem.
When your feelings in your really blue.
The world seems against you.
Say for yourself.
I am the master of my fate,
I am the commander of my soul,
I will not surrender to any of the foul.

Written by Shashwat Pal

BOOK:- God, the evolver
AUTHOR:- Faiz king

"How man created god?" "How do you feel about the possibility of coming face to face with your ancestors(eg:- neanderthal) in the near future?"

Author had tried to prove that evolution has it's origin in religious thought, in particular, metaphysics. He had used various theories like metaphysics, physiology, biomechanism, philosophy etc to reach the goal of the book. Verses of koran (quran) have been used to relate the topics of this book. Utmost research have been done to write this book. Each and every point which author wanted to convey, have been proven by using various scientific theories and facts.

Order on Amazon now!

BOOK:- Ocean of mind

AUTHOR:- Manisha Gaikwad

How do we survive depression and stress? In the times of crisis from where do we pull strength and hope?

Manisha Gaikwad explores these questions in her book "Ocean of Mind". It is a self-help book. The book supplies historical and contemporary facts as well as compelling stories and beautiful flow charts to illustrate and support its arguments. Too often, our own mindset divides us from our fellow beings. Still, this book shows how our mind, rather than being strictly mental, actually have a psychological, moral, and social function. "Living in the past is a problem because it robs you of the opportunity to enjoy the present" says Manisha. It comes to the timely, convincing and valuable conclusion that if a person is optimistic about the future, then he/she leads to a happy, moral and productive life

Order on Amazon now!